Theme/aim of the project:

Workcamps, international youth and volunteer projects play a central role in activities of many NGOs, and most of them need a camp leader, or coordinator, or teamer, or group leader. Names could be many, functions may vary – still, the leader is one of the keys to success of the workcamp and of other international projects.

This training aims to prepare leaders in international atmosphere, discuss different aspects of workcamps and international volunteer activities and their preparation, international cooperation among organizations, leadership, preventing and solving conflicts and other issues related to leading an international youth project.

All trainings have a special feature too: we'd like to address the educational aspect of international youth and volunteer activities, how to enhance possibilities for mutual learning and exchange in the international context of a workcamp or youth exchange or any other international or local volunteer project.

Language: The language of the training is English.

Countries: Croatia, Estonia, France, Greece, Iceland, Italy, Luxemburg.

Accommodation: Accommodation will be in multiple rooms.
